

Counter-IED Capability Maturity Model and Self-Assessment Tool

About UNIDIR

Knowledge

Ideas

Dialogue

Advice

Counter-IED Self-Assessment Tool

- Requested by the General Assembly
- Supported by the government of France
- Easy-to-use Tool, designed to assist States self-identify challenges in preparedness to counter IEDs

What are the objectives of the Tool?

- Leverage knowledge to enhance prevention and response strategies
- Assess the priority of work and gauge likely scale of contributions

What is a Capability Maturity Model?

A set of structured levels that describe how well the current practices produce required outcomes, key benefits include:

- Provides a benchmark for comparison
- Indicates gaps and areas where process improvement may be required

How to use the Tool?

- Assess each counter-IED activity
- Reach consolidated results for upstream and downstream components
- Results can be used to establish a baseline of capabilities and then prioritise efforts
- Voluntary and no reporting requirements

Data Visualization App

- Data Visualization App has been developed
- The App uses linked tabs to enter data, with one tab for each Counter-IED activity
- The App allows free-text
- Two separate summary tabs (for upstream and downstream components), display the consolidated results

Upstream Counter-IED Measures - Summary of Counter-IED Capability Maturity
Upstream Components of Counter-IED Capability

Component of Counter-IED Capability	CMM Level
U1 - National Policy, Regulations and Legislation	1
U2 - Security and Control of Explosives	3
U3 - IED Risk Education	1
U4 - Counter-IED Capability Development	1
U5 - Border Controls	3
U6 - Control of IED Precursors	5
U7 - International Cooperation and Info Sharing	4
U8 - Intelligence-Led Operations	5
Mean Upstream Counter IED Maturity Level	3

Date: 1-Jul-20
 Assessment Description: Country X
 Assessor(s): A Author

Four key messages

- The Tool is the product of a collaborative effort
- The Data Visualization App facilitates data collection and display of results
- The Tool is now available in English, French, and Spanish (Arabic soon)
- Use the Tool to improve preparedness

Thank you very much.

Alfredo Malaret Baldo
(alfredo.malaretbaldo@un.org)