

Organization: The Future of Life Institute
Executive Summary of Disarmament Activities 2020-2022

The Future of Life Institute (FLI) is a non-profit working to mitigate risks of emerging technologies. As a co-champion of recommendation 3C on artificial intelligence (AI) in the Roadmap for Digital Cooperation, our organization hosted a multistakeholder consultation on “Artificial Intelligence and the Promotion of Peace” in September 2020. This consultation highlighted what needs to be done to better link AI and disarmament issues including more inclusivity, improved engagement of the private sector, and the need to move beyond guiding principles. The Institute has been active throughout 2020-2022 in the education of policymakers and the general public on the topic of lethal autonomous weapons. At the invitation of the Austrian Foreign Minister, we addressed an intergovernmental conference on “Safeguarding Human Control”. FLI also participated in the 2021 sessions of the Group of Governmental Experts on Lethal Autonomous Weapons, as well as the CCW Sixth Review Conference.
